Man takes first steps on the Moon

American Neil Armstrong has become the first man to walk on the Moon. The astronaut stepped onto the Moon's surface, in the Sea of Tranquility, at 0256 GMT, nearly 20 minutes after first opening the hatch on the Eagle landing craft. Armstrong had earlier reported the lunar module's safe landing at 2017 GMT with the words: "Houston, Tranquility Base here. The Eagle has landed." As he put his left foot down first Armstrong declared: "That's one small step for man, one giant leap for mankind." He described the surface as being like powdered charcoal and the landing craft left a crater about a foot deep. "We came in peace!" The historic moments were captured on television cameras installed on the Eagle and turned on by Armstrong. Armstrong spent his first few minutes on the Moon taking photographs and soil samples in case the mission had to be aborted suddenly. He was joined by colleague Edwin "Buzz" Aldrin at 0515 GMT and the two collected data and performed various exercises - including jumping across the landscape - before planting the Stars and Stripes flag at 0541 GMT.

Miniskirts Coming!!

The decade began with a continuation of the hippie look from the 1960s. Jeans remained favored, and the T-shirt and Mexican peasant blouses were still popular. In addition to the mini skirt, mid-calf-length dresses called "mids" and ankle-length dresses called "maxis" were also worn in 1970 and 1971, thus offering women three different skirt lengths [1].

In 1971, extremely brief, high-fitting shorts, called hot pants, were a fashion craze for girls and young women. Throughout the period, trousers for both sexes, though flared at leg bottoms, were very tight and revealing from the knee thighs up.

Electrical Home Goods

As technology improved the range and sophistication of home appliances offered much greater freedom and uses including "Time Saving Devices", plus as you can see for the second example some items had a 70's look and feel all of their own. But Color TV's still have a long way to go. The Latest and Cinema Screen Color TV costing close to $800 in today's money about $4,000. Not included on these examples but can be found on the page are the latest music playing devices including an Eight Track Tape Player and an example of a solid-state Three Speed Record deck and speakers.

Peace is all we need

Established at the height of the Cold War in 1961, the Peace Corps attempted to restore America's moral authority in the world. As a part of John F. Kennedy's new directions in foreign policy the Peace Corps' objectives were threefold: to assist the process of modernization in developing nations, to better educate the rest of the world about America, and to improve America's understanding of the non-western people. It was designed to be a cross-cultural experience. From inception the Peace Corps lived up to its reputation, and has arguably remained as Kennedy's most enduring achievement in foreign
